

Privacy Statement

Introduction

Computest Group B.V. ("Computest"), including its subsidiaries, processes personal and other information in accordance with applicable laws. We respect the privacy of all users who visit our Website. In this Privacy Statement, we explain the type of (personal) data we collect and process and the purposes for which we do so.

Applicability of the Privacy Statement

This Privacy Statement outlines our policy concerning how Computest processes personal data. Computest has its registered office and principal place of business at Signaalrood 25 (2718 SH), Zoetermeer, and is registered in the Trade Register of the Chamber of Commerce under number 32108685.

Processing of personal data

Computest processes the personal information ("Personal Data") its users and visitors provide to it, as well as data obtained from visits to and use of the suricat.io website ("Website") of Computest.

Computest collects the contact information (email address and/or domain name) of all users who avail themselves of the service on the Website and the personal browsing history of its users.

Personal data are collected when the user provides personal information on the Website, subscribes to the newsletter, fills out the online contact form, contacts our service department and requests information. Computest treats personal data confidentially and with due care.

Purpose

Computest uses the collected data to provide the requested service and to inform the user of updates and new features.

Retention period

Computest will retain personal data as long as necessary for the fulfilment of the purposes stated above.

Security measures

Computest takes reasonable and appropriate measures, including the use of an https connection, to protect your personal data. Computest does not engage third parties for providing services through the Website and is therefore not liable for any losses which the user and/or third parties may suffer as a result of using the Website. For more information, please see the Terms and Conditions of Use.

Newsletter

If necessary, Computest sends newsletters by email to inform the user of updates and new features in its services. Each newsletter includes a working unsubscribe link to allow you to remove yourself from the mailing list.

Reviewing and changing your personal data

You can always contact us at info@computest.nl or through our contact form if you have any questions regarding our privacy policy or wish to review, modify or delete your personal data.

Third parties

Computest will not provide and/or sell your personal data to third parties without your consent, unless it is required by law or by order of the court. Computest reserves the right to transfer the processed personal data in the event that we sell or transfer all or a portion of our business or assets.

Links to other organisations

We may provide links to other organisations' websites, but Computest is not responsible for how such organisations use your personal data. We encourage you to familiarise yourself with the privacy policy of linked organisations.

Changes to Privacy Policy

We reserves the right to revise our Privacy Statement from time to time. We encourage you to visit this page periodically to review our current policy so that you will always know what information we gather and how we may use that information.
